

The logo features a blue outline of the state of Missouri on the left. To its right, the word "Missouri" is written in blue, "credit unions" in red, "make the" in blue, and "difference" in red.

Missouri
credit unions
make the difference

Missouri credit unions have joined forces with Homes for Our Troops - a non-profit group that builds specially adapted homes for severely injured members of the military.

Our first home in Missouri is for Army Staff Sergeant Robert Canine. He lost both legs below the knee on May 17, 2009, when the Humvee he commanded in Iraq was attacked.

The logo features a blue outline of the state of Missouri on the left. To its right, the word "Missouri" is written in blue, "credit unions" in red, "make the" in blue, and "difference" in red.

Missouri
credit unions
make the
difference

Missouri credit unions have joined forces with Homes for Our Troops - a non-profit group that builds specially adapted homes for severely injured members of the military.

Our first home in Missouri is for Army Staff Sergeant Robert Canine. He lost both legs below the knee on May 17, 2009, when the Humvee he commanded in Iraq was attacked.

The logo features a blue outline of the state of Missouri on the left. To its right, the word "Missouri" is written in blue, "credit unions" in red, "make the" in blue, and "difference" in red.

Missouri
credit unions
make the
difference

Missouri credit unions have joined forces with Homes for Our Troops - a non-profit group that builds specially adapted homes for severely injured members of the military.

Our first home in Missouri is for Army Staff Sergeant Robert Canine. He lost both legs below the knee on May 17, 2009, when the Humvee he commanded in Iraq was attacked.

The logo features a blue outline of the state of Missouri on the left. To its right, the word "Missouri" is written in blue, "credit unions" in red, "make the" in blue, and "difference" in red.

Missouri
credit unions
make the
difference

Missouri credit unions have joined forces with Homes for Our Troops - a non-profit group that builds specially adapted homes for severely injured members of the military.

Our first home in Missouri is for Army Staff Sergeant Robert Canine. He lost both legs below the knee on May 17, 2009, when the Humvee he commanded in Iraq was attacked.